WESTVIEW PTSA
CAREER CONNECTIONS PRESENTS

Careers in Education

With thousands of schools and learning facilities in the US, education majors are always needed to teach, motivate and mentor future generations. Whether you are interested in a career in early childhood education or secondary education, whether you become a principal or a special education teacher, education jobs can be rewarding and insightful.

If you would like to learn more about what it takes to pursue a job in education, join us for this interactive panel discussion with some of San Diego's top professionals.
